Bargain Hunt Customers,

As the COVID-19 situation evolves, we are committed to ensuring the health and safety of our customers and associates while continuing to serve our communities. We are monitoring the situation hourly and are working with local and national agencies and government officials.

We know that many of you rely on us for the products you need for daily life. To continue to meet your needs during this challenging time, we are:

- Cleaning our stores daily following CDC guidelines.
- Asking all associates to follow hygiene protocols defined by the CDC.
- Educating our store personnel to stay home if they feel sick. We have put new policies in place to ensure a healthy workforce, including extending our sick leave policy to cover those impacted.
- Working with our buyers and suppliers to deliver and stock in-demand merchandise and everyday necessities. We have placed limits on certain items so more customers are able to access the merchandise they need.
- Ensuring that prices continue to reflect amazing savings and incredible value to our Customers. We will not raise prices to profit from the situation.

This situation is emerging and evolving daily. As new information becomes available, we will keep our Store staff informed so we can quickly adapt. We will communicate any operational changes frequently and transparently. Thank for you for your continued support and cooperation.

Best,

David Wachsman
